Sagawa Global Logistics Co., Ltd.

Supporting Business between Japanese Suppliers and Chinese Buyers

Undertaking Intermodal Transportation Duties between China and Japan, to Support the “Online Trading Service for China” of netprice.com Ltd.

Sagawa Global Logistics Co., Ltd. (H.O. Shinagawa-Ku, Tokyo. President: Hideo Araki), a member of the SG Holdings Group, has agreed to undertake intermodal transportation duties between China and Japan, to support the “Online Trading Service for China” developed in cooperation between netprice.com Ltd. (H.O. Shinagawa-Ku, Tokyo. President: Teruhide Sato. Hereinafter referred to as Netprice) and Alibaba.com Japan Co., Ltd. (H.O. Chuo-Ku, Tokyo).

The “Online Trading Service for China” allows buyers of Japanese products (Chinese industries or individual enterprises) and suppliers wishing to introduce their goods to the Chinese market (Japanese industries) to link up and complete all Sino-Japanese trade related procedures, which can be complicated, easily over the internet.

Sagawa Global Logistics has established overseas subsidiaries in major cities throughout China, including the first home delivery company in the city of Shanghai. Additionally, by taking advantage of our relationship with China Express, a subsidiary of China Post, we have all the functions at our disposal to offer seamless transportation of products from Japanese suppliers to Chinese buyers, thoroughly supporting this service from a logistics viewpoint.

Furthermore, Sagawa Global Logistics, and the SG Holdings Group can provide total support for logistics operations, from processing of items bound for the Chinese mail order market, through to domestic and international transportation.

We will continue to work closely with Netprice to develop new services that will make dealings between Japanese suppliers and Chinese buyers even more convenient.
